

We are hiring a Contract PEPS Group Leader - Parents of Adolescents and Teens

Since 1983, PEPS has provided neighborhood-based parent peer-support programs for families. Group Leaders are integral to our mission, working alongside parents to facilitate conversation and foster connection. The majority of our amazing Group Leaders are volunteers. As a non-profit organization, we also bring in a small group of dedicated, paid contract Leaders who have professional experience working with families who provide support for a limited number of groups. PEPS is looking to expand the pool of contract Group Leaders to facilitate peer-support groups for parents of adolescents and teens in Spanish.

About PAT Groups

The PEPS program for Parents of Adolescents and Teens (PAT) offers education and peer support for parents of adolescents between 10 to 19 years old.

There are two meeting models offered: a 9-week series covers a range of parenting topics, and a 4-week series is based on a particular topic or theme. Both are offered in the daytime or evening. These groups may meet in person or online.

Each week, Group Leaders guide families in sharing their parenting experiences and discussing evidence-based information on a topic essential to adolescent development. Sessions also include parents participating in activities such as role-playing and breakout groups to facilitate understanding of information, skill development, and social connections with one another. The emphasis of this program is on sharing information and mutual support in a community of parents to help develop confidence in their parenting abilities during a challenging developmental period.

Training and Ongoing Support

PEPS provides extensive training for all new PAT Group Leaders that includes a combination of online modules and a session with a trainer. PAT Leaders can also attend a 60-minute, monthly virtual meeting for ongoing facilitation support and to share discussions, solve challenges, and receive feedback and support from other PAT Leaders. Commitment to Equity

We believe all families should have access to a healthy, supported start in life. Knowing that race and ethnicity continue to predict the future life chances of children in our state, we are committed to working with families, partner organizations, and communities to identify barriers to parent support and wellness, interrupt their negative impact, and eliminate the persistent disparities in child outcomes.

PEPS values and celebrates the strengths that diversity brings to the workplace and is committed to advancing equity through our work. Cultivating a diverse and inclusive staff is one of our priorities.

Black, Indigenous, People of Color, and others with underrepresented identities (including, but not limited to gender identity, class, socioeconomic status, sexual orientation, age, ability, and background) are strongly and sincerely encouraged to apply. PEPS is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

For various reasons, PEPS is not equipped to monitor immunization or health records. PEPS cannot guarantee that all families have been vaccinated. However, PEPS strongly encourages and recommends our participants and leaders be vaccinated before participating in, leading, or visiting a PEPS Group.
